BAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MOVES IN NEW LOCATION

Spacious and Centrally Located Quarters Officially Occupied. First Meeting and Reception Held Last Night—Committee Praised.

It was quite an event of interest Friday night when the meeting of the Bay Chamber of Commerce was held for the first time in the new quarters, ground floor of the Maurigi building, corner Main street and the Courthouse plaza. President H. S. Weston presided and there were also present other officers and a splendid number of members interested. Owing to the resignation of Wm. Cooper, secretary, who in future will devote all of his time to his private business, Albert S. Johnston was unanimously elected to succeed him. Mr. Johnston will at once enter upon the duties of his office and as early as the former secretary will check out and the new one in.

It was plainly evident there was much enthusiasm manifested from the discussions and other remarks made from time to time. The matter of publicity was discussed and it was planned to give Bay St. Louis and Hancock county all the advertising possible. The matter will be further taken up by a committee appointed for the purpose.

One of the ardent workers for the Chamber of Commerce, in addition to the executive officers, are Capt. C. B. Fisher and R. C. Engman, who, with the assistance of Wm. Cooper, planned and carried out the work that made possible the handsome and commodious headquarters for the organization. Many letters received from away, addressed to the association, have come in for attention, and as a result it is expected the club will prove of inestimable benefit in addition to other numerous ways.

HARRISON TALKS OF NEXT SESSION

Believes Senate Will Vote For Court and Tax Reduction Half Billion.

America's plan of taxation must be made to conform with the period of credit granted our allied debtors, and there must be a reduction of taxes all along the line by our next Congress, declared United States Senator Pat Harrison in an interview at Jackson Saturday.

"The Senate will not accept without revision the plan of taxation framed by the ways and means committee," said Senator Harrison. "Tax legislation is always the culmination of compromise, and, in my opinion, the House plan will be considerably changed when it reaches the Senate."

"In view of the 62-year extension granted our foreign debtors, the policy of the government toward the American taxpayer must be changed. We have been collecting taxes from the people on the theory that the war debt would be paid within twenty-five years, but now we are giving to our foreign debtors two and one-half times that period in which to pay us. This policy of the federal government must be changed, and the time limit for collection of our war debt, through taxation made to correspond with the period of credit extended to our allies."

If this policy is followed, the Mississippi senator declared that taxes should be reduced at the next Congress not less than $500,000,000 per annum all along the line. Senator Harrison said that he would contend for a reduction of 15 per cent in surtaxes, reduction of corporation taxes, wiping out of the capital stock tax, elimination of nuisance taxes, and reduction of estate taxes.

In discussing the world court, Senator Harrison said that "unless the administration's talk is all idle fancy, the Senate will, by a substantial majority, vote to enter the court."

CHRISTMAS CARDS

Order Christmas Cards early. Last year the printing department of The Sea Coast Echo had to disappoint a number of patrons who waited too late. We have orders filed since October. Why not yours today?

The Echo selection this year embraces attractive samples and prices are from 15 to 25 per cent lower than last year. The reduction is notable, resulting in more orders.

Christmas cards will be used more this year than ever. Nothing takes the place of an attractive or artistic card. It carries a message, cheerful and cordial, and is ever kept.

Let The Echo show samples and prices before ordering elsewhere.

Our esteemed townswoman, Mrs. Elizabeth Boudin, active in business and public service work, has been quite ill for the last two weeks. Some one months ago, after a long illness, she fell on her leg and for a while after the occurrence nothing more was thought of it until, as a result, she was taken suddenly ill and removed to Toussaint Infirmary, at New Orleans, where by timely arrival and assistance a serious operation was averted. Mrs. Boudin returned to Bay St. Louis last week, and while she is in the hospital recovering from the operation, she is still unable to move about.

The Echo is glad to hear that Mrs. Boudin is well and hopes she will be able to resume her active life soon.

LIEUT. HOWARD C. BRANDT OF PASS CHRISTIAN DROPS TO DEATH

Honolulu, Nov. 24.—The twin engines in a Martin bombing plane went dead yesterday off the rocky coast of Northern Cahu and two aviators were killed in a 500-foot drop.

Two others of the same crew—Lieutenant Grandison Gardner and Corporal Francis Johnson—swam for the shore after being dashed into the sea, but Corporal Johnson became exhausted near shore and was thrown upon the sand. His companion, Lieutenant Gardner, swimming to safety, revived Johnson after he had worked over him for an hour.

The dead, Captain Karl H. Gorman, Morgantown, W. Va., and Lieutenant Howard C. Brandt, of Pass Christian, Miss.

Captain Gorman and Lieutenant Brandt were immediately lost. Officials are unable to fix the cause for twin motors stopping at the same time, as this instance is the first on record.

FLY ENTERS REALTY FIELD.

Resigns Secretarial Position With Senator Harrison to Join M. P. Bouslog.

The Daily Herald, of Gulfport, had the following notice in regard to Eugene Fly, private secretary to Senator Pat Harrison, engaging in the real estate business in Gulfport. Reports are to the effect that Senator Harrison has made a little fortune in real estate on the Gulf Coast since the adjournment of Congress.

The people of Mississippi will be glad to know that Mr. Fly has entered business in this State. The following is the notice from the Herald:

"Eugene Fly, for the last thirteen years private secretary to Senator Pat Harrison and a conspicuous figure in Mississippi politics, has resigned his secretarial position to engage in the real estate business and establish his residence in Gulfport. It was announced that Mr. Fly has joined forces with M. P. Bouslog, Gulfport realtor, and that the business would be incorporated under the name of the Bouslog Company.

"As a vigorous and resourceful campaign manager, combining keen observation and accurate judgment with a friendly personality, Mr. Fly gives promise of becoming a prominent figure in the real estate activity of South Mississippi and other States, supplemented by his integrity and high sense of honor, will prove an asset of incalculable value to the firm with which he becomes associated."

"Mr. Bouslog, with whom Mr. Fly will cast his lot in the widening market of Mississippi Coast lands, founded the Mississippi Abstract Title and Guaranty Company at Gulfport and perhaps no man in South Mississippi has a more accurate knowledge of the lands of this section than he. For several years past he was vice president and manager of the Union Title Guaranty Company, of New Orleans, which he helped to establish. His acquaintance in New Orleans and many sections of Louisiana is as broad as is on the Mississippi Coast. He re-entered the realty field at Gulfport a few months ago, becoming associated with the long-established business of his father, W. H. Bouslog, one of the pioneer real estate men of the Coast. The firm has figured in many of the largest transactions in Coast and cut-over lands and has built up a splendid business."

"Circumstances brought about an unusual merger of personal resources when it threw Mr. Fly and Mr. Bouslog into the center of the South Mississippi realty field."

While in the State said to lure his met our esteemed former townswoman, E. W. Sistrunk, who not only asked to be remembered to "all back home," but confidentially confided the fact with Mr. Seal that his thoughts and wishes were ever in Bay St. Louis, and he hoped to set foot here again. He expressed great interest in the Bay St. Louis bridge proposition, knowing the success bridges of this kind is now meaning to several sections of Florida.

LADIES' NIGHT AT BAY ROTARY CLUB THANKSGIVING EVE

City's Service Club Entertained 120 at Hotel Weston Thanksgiving Eve. Tuesday—Dr. W. A. Dearman, Long Beach, and Dr. C. J. Mitchell, Gulfport, Speakers.

Every element concerned conspired Wednesday evening to make the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club "Ladies' Night," in celebration of Thanksgiving, a success without precedent.

The idea was conceived a fortnight ago. A committee was appointed, with Dr. Jas. A. Evans executive chairman, and now well succeeded in his efforts as well attested to. There were covers set for 120 guests and every seat was taken. The dining room of the Weston Hotel presented both an animated and inviting scene. On a long table, shaped, fitted in to a nicely. Tall baskets set here and there with a profusion of flowers added to the attractive setting.

President Ernest J. Leonard presided during the evening, with Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch at his right, who delivered the invocation. The menu Manager Babcock had prepared and the excellent cuisine by his chef and assistants was excellent, a typical Thanksgiving dinner, with nothing left to be desired.

During the dinner an orchestra discoursed a number of popular selections and at its conclusion President Ernest J. Leonard announced Bernard Shields as the first speaker on the program of entertainment for the evening. In his inimitable way Mr. Shields told a number of anecdotes in the Hibernian dialect, and other stories, assisted by his charming and accomplished daughter, Mrs. Bessie Shields, of New York City, on a visit South.

Dr. W. A. Dearman, Long Beach, was one of the principal speakers of the evening, and interested the attentive listeners with a number of remarks appropriate to the club and its feature work of service. Finally, speaking professionally, he gave a number of hints of worth to the would best guard that of value—health and long years of life.

Dr. Dearman was succeeded by Dr. Richard Cox, president of Gulfport College, and better known perhaps to Rotarians as "Dick" Cox. A speaker of force and ever engaging, he dwelt on his subject of Rotary and that the organization implies "Service above Self," with unceasing interest.

Dr. Cox's eloquent address brought the speakers' program of the evening to a close. As the applause subsided President Leonard announced that through the courtesy of Manager Babcock, of the Hotel Weston, the waiters would appear presently and render a number of quartette selections.

Quartette by "Waiters." Just then there emerged from the kitchen six black-faced "waiters," with apron and white coat, each carrying a large platter, whose identity were finally discovered—six Bay St. Louis Rotarians who had silently stolen away while the feast was at its height and prepared for the stunt.

The selections were from the Rotary song book, well known melodies, and sung with quartette effect, led by Dr. Jas. A. Evans and Mrs. Canty, pianist. The others were Messrs. O'Neal, Scafe, Moore, Howze and Moreau.

Words were arranged as to fit in allusions made to Rotarians, including Messrs. Marshall, Mauffray, Engman, Osinach and last but not least, President Ernest Leonard. Dr. Dearman, "Dick" Cox and Bernard Shields also came under the same heading.

Their last number, "Good Night, Ladies," shared in by the guests, brought the banquet to a close, and those who cared to remain until a later hour joined in the dance to the music of an orchestra supplying music for the evening.

A stunt "pulled off" during the early part of the evening, when the guests were comfortably seated to the table, was the "Vamp's Vengeance," with Rotarian Charley Breathe as the victim of the vamp's wrath. A local society woman entered the banquet hall, her face well hidden under a picture hat, heavily veiled, and form concealed in the folds of a long cloak, seeking Charley Breathe, and taking him severely to task for breaking his promise and abandoning her at home, after sending her flowers and candies.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gex, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. F. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kerosien, Dr. Pat Cassidy, Mr. and Mrs. John Howze, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Blaise, Miss Julia Blaise, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. O. Mauffray, Miss Ella Mauffray, Miss Ethel Osinach, Mr. C. G. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Dr. Richard Cox, Dr. William Dearman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. W. Partridge, Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, Mrs. Geo. E. Rea, Mrs. B. COAST ORGANIZATION FORMED; PLANS PUBLICITY PROMOTION.

Pursuant to call made by Geo. C. Poole, temporary chairman of the temporary organization for the promotion of publicity for the Mississippi Gulf Coast, a meeting was held at Gulfport at 8 o'clock Monday night, in the Harrison county courthouse, with Geo. C. Poole, residing as chairman and M. P. Bouslog as secretary. Mr. Poole briefly outlined the purpose of the meeting, and introduced Harriet S. Shimp, of Chicago, who addressed the meeting on the possibilities and opportunities presented at this time for a Coast-wide advertising campaign, and also offered his services in raising one-fourth of any amount that might be set to be obtained for this purpose among the investors of Chicago.

M. P. Bouslog followed Mr. Shimp with detailed statement of the advertising moment and the purposes of the present meeting, and moved that the meeting be resolved into a permanent organization known as the Mississippi Coast Club. This motion was duly seconded by A. L. Jagoe, and unanimously carried. Thereupon the chairman called for nominations for officers, and after due procedure the following were named as the permanent officers of the club to serve for the period to be fixed by the by-laws:

President, Geo. C. Poole, Gulfport; secretary, Eugene Fly, Gulfport; treasurer, A. L. Jagoe, Gulfport.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

No social guests within the gates of our city have been feted as much in so short a time as Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bradford, of Denver, Colorado, who left Wednesday morning, after a stay extending over a period of from Saturday to Wednesday morning as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rea at their handsome and hospitable home in Washington street. The time was all too short to record in all entertainments planned. Sunday the guests spent the day along the Coast, visiting different towns and places of particular interest, and no better friends of the Mississippi Gulf Coast exist than Mr. and Mrs. Bradford, and in their far-west home this section will have no better boosters.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rea were most and most Monday night, to friends at bridge in compliment to their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford. The affair was one of much charm and pleasure, an evening, that wing-like, flitted all too quickly.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Upham, of Panama City, Fla.; Mr. Ernest J. Leonard, Dr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Canty, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. Victor Camors, Mrs. S. A. Power, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Miss E. Lacoste.

In addition to the beautiful guest prize for Mrs. Bradford, other handsome trophies were captured by Mr. A. F. Fournier and Mrs. Camors; Miss Lacoste, with Mrs. Canty at the piano, rendered two vocal numbers of unusual excellence.

Mrs. E. J. Lacoste Hostess at Luncheon Bridge. The Weston Hotel Tuesday afternoon was the scene of a delightful luncheon held by Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bradford, of Denver, the affair being a proving one not to be soon forgotten. Mrs. Lacoste was assisted in receiving by Miss E. Lacoste.

HANCOCK GOES OVER THE TOP IN RED CROSS

Reports From County Chairman Is to This Effect—Bay St. Louis, Logtown and Kila Rally—Individual Workers Show Interest and Result.

Hancock county has gone over the top in enrolling Red Cross membership for another year.

The quota for the county was 100 memberships—55 for Bay St. Louis, 35 for Logtown, which was given such a small quota last year that it ASKED for more this year—and 10 for the Kila. Ninety-two memberships have been paid up so far. The Kila enrollment has not been turned in yet, as Mrs. Love, Kila chairman, has been away from home, but Kila will certainly enroll ten members, making Hancock county go over the top.

Miss Carol Weston, of Logtown, enrolled four over the quota of 35. In Bay St. Louis, women enrolling five or more members were Miss Engman, Mrs. J. A. Evans, Mrs. G. R. Rea, Mrs. Claud Monti and Mrs. E. J. Lacoste. Miss Lolanthe Mauffray brought the Bay St. Louis record right on up by her efficient and enthusiastic co-operation. Miss Lolanthe enrolled twenty members. Kila will be reported in next week's Echo.

Half this enrollment money stays at home as an emergency fund.—Report of County Chairman.

CAPTAIN CHARLES TRAUB FOR ALDERMAN.

Captain Traub, well known and substantial resident of Ward 1, is announced in this issue of The Echo as a candidate for the office of Alderman and in seeking election is well backed by voters and others who are interested in a safe and sound administration of the city's affairs.

Captain Traub wishes to give the city's affairs within his province his time and attention toward that direction that will redound best to the benefit of the city, with a good record of progress and development. He favors economy and harmony, believing that by concerted action more can be accomplished than otherwise—and to a greater degree of success. We feel certain that should he be elected he will serve to the best advantage.

It is noteworthy that he has splendid backing and from every side he has already received encouragement. In fact, it was at the solicitation of friends and acquaintances that he consented to become a candidate.

A CARD TO THE VOTERS. Having announced myself as a candidate for Alderman of the Second Ward, I take the liberty of explaining my platform. I was born and raised in Bay St. Louis, with a good, clean record. I stand for progressiveness in all its lines. I believe we should have better schools, better roads, better fire protection; in fact, anything that will benefit our little city. I don't believe in blocking any measure on account of political differences. I favor co-operation with the Mayor and from every side in an economical administration, without stopping progress.

If elected, I expect to be the people's servant. I have no axe to grind. I am after no political favors. I favor equal rights to all. I have lots of time to give the city.

As stated above, if elected I will serve to the best of my ability, working along lines with the Mayor and Board in harmony, without prejudice towards anyone.

Before casting your vote in the coming primary, I am asking the voters of my ward and friends of our city to consider this carefully. I promise, if they elect me, they will have no cause to regret such action.

Thanking you one and all in advance, I remain, yours for Better Bay St. Louis.

JAMES MARTI, Candidate for Alderman, 2nd Ward.

A British concern is building iron houses, for which orders totalling $750,000, are now on hand, a 11-ton house costing $2,125. Now who can think up a nice proverb about "People who live in iron houses," etc?

Dr. Claude E. Sayre, pastor of Wichita, Kan., has created a sensation by declaring in a sermon that "the only devil is a man-made devil, created for the purpose of making people afraid and holding them in a state of bondage and superstition." Even the orthodox may be pardoned for a futile hope that he is right.

Again politics has made a pair of strange bed-fellows. Ronald McNeill when a member of the British parliament in 1914, threw a book across the House of Commons at Winston Churchill during a debate on the Irish question. Now McNeill is financial secretary to the British treasury, while his boss is Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer.

Izzy Einstein, noted prohibition sleuth, who has achieved much publicity through his clever disguises, has been dropped from the government pay roll, according to an official announcement, "for the good of the service." His almost equally famous colleague, Moe Smith, met the same fate. But canny bootleggers may suspect that the "dismissal" is only another disguise.

We scarcely expected to see the gunmen put out of business by the House ways and means committee with one sweeping swipe, but it appears that such is about to happen through the simple expedient of placing a 10 per cent tax on all pistols and automatic revolvers, thus making these necessary implements too expensive for the bandits. How simple! Why didn't someone think of it before?

People are becoming more humane in their attitude toward dumb creatures. This can hardly be better illustrated than by the case reported of a Southern legislator, who championed a bill making it a criminal offense in his State to swallow an oyster alive, and providing that oysters be slaughtered by a painless method. While the bill failed to pass, the support it received unmistakably shows the trend toward more merciful practices.

COASTAL CITIES

immediate developments hinge on the building of the county free bridge across the Bay of St. Louis, and really values will depend to a great extent on the completion of this improvement, it is or more than ordinary interest to learn that the Mississippi State Highway Department has completed plans for the structure and sent them on to Washington for federal approval.

It is expected the advertisement for bids on the Bay City bridge will be advertised in The Echo official columns either during December or January, to cover a full period of 30 days. No doubt there will be many bidders. Every safeguard to the public exchequer will be thrown around the letting of the contract, and no effort will go amiss in the interest of seeking to have the bridge built not only to the best advantage but at the earliest possible moment.

Bay St. Louis and the balance of Hancock county, as well as the county of Harrison on the other side, will mutually fare by the benefits to the public to accrue from this projected enterprise. Its completion will link the seven cities of the Coast into one, so to speak, developing more as a whole the resources of the Coast and bringing our people into closer relation and a better understanding for the general upbuilding and welfare of this coastal region and its people.

1926 will bring Bay St. Louis its bridge.

BIG SMALL TOWN STORE.

Fred W. Anderson, of Cozard, Neb., has given a pretty conclusive knock-out to the idea that mail order houses and peddlers can put local stores out of business.

That is, if the local merchant knows his stuff.

Mr. Anderson runs a store in a town of only about 1,300 people, yet he does a business of $300,000 a year selling his wares to home folks. He recently discussed some of the ideas and methods which have enabled him to build up such a phenomenal trade in a mere village.

Of course, those methods include the studying of his customers' needs, careful buying, and selling dependable merchandise at a reasonable profit. But his principal secret of success lies in reaching out for an ever widening trade area, bringing people from unusual distances to his store.

In doing this he has naturally adopted the most effective means ever employed by a local merchant for that purpose—newspaper advertising. And he gives it credit for his success. Here are his own words:

"I have no sympathy for the merchant who sleeps between advertised blankets, on bed springs that are nationally advertised, sleeps in advertised pajamas, who puts on advertised underwear, shirt, garters, shoes and clothing when he gets up in the morning, who eats advertised cereals and breakfast foods, who rides to work in an advertised car, and then, when he gets to work, refuses to advertise."

"If I were to start in business again today, I would invest 5 per cent of my gross sales in advertising. It pays."

GERMANY HONORS HERO.

Germany has no grave of an "unknown soldier" set apart as a national shrine, as have the principal Allied countries. But the last resting place of a known hero promises to become the symbol of German valor.

Last week the body of Baron Manfred von Richthofen, acclaimed the world's greatest ace, was removed from France to its final sepulchre in the Invaliden Cemetery of Berlin, with all the honors his country could bestow.

Richthofen was credited with having brought down, single-handed, 80 Allied airplanes before he met death in a terrific air duel between his squadron of 30 planes and a British force of 50, near Amiens, France, where his admiring enemies buried him with full military honors behind their lines on April 21, 1918.

While the manner in which "aces" of airplane victories were kept by various countries differed to some extent, so that an accurate comparison is difficult, the enemy planes destroyed by the outstanding aces of the World War were recorded as follows:

Richthofen, of Germany, 80; Fonck, of France, 78; Mannock, of England, 73; Rickenbacker, of the United States, 22 planes and 3 balloons. Guyermeir, of France, who was killed 14 months before the armistice, had shot down 53 before his death, holding the record at that time.

The name of Richthofen will be held in reverence by the Fatherland for generations to come, while in all the world it will command respect. The pity is that his dauntless courage and fervent zeal should not have been devoted to constructive service for humanity.

Fish culture in Hawaii is being fostered through the planting of eggs of the Japanese ayu in its waters. For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the ayu, we may explain that it has many characteristics in common with the opah.

RAY ST. LOUIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Improvements and

Bay St. Louis has every reason to feel gratified over the successful organization of the civic association, officially known as the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and which is already functioning.

It has long been the desire of our people to have such a clearing house known as the Chamber of Commerce, a place where people may come and go for information concerning this section of the Coast and all of Hancock county as well. Too frequently letters have reached here seeking information and data which remained unanswered for a lack of authority to do so. Now it will be entirely different. Every letter reaching Bay St. Louis from parties interested will not only be answered formally, but every service possible will be rendered in order that proper information may be disseminated and serve as part of the campaign for general publicity which the organization has launched.

Headed by such men as Weston, Rea, Mauffray, Evans and others in different positions; it is evident the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce is going to have a long and useful career and prove its worth as a community builder. Messrs. Cooper, Engman, Fisher, Moore, Perkins and others will also aid appreciably in carrying on the good work planned.

CANCER CURE REPORT.

So often have announcements been made of the discovery of cures for cancer, only to have the alleged remedy turn out to be of no value, that reports of this sort are now largely discounted.

The latest message of hope for sufferers from this most dreaded of all maladies comes from England, and while full verification is lacking, the early reports are encouraging, due to the high standing of the surgeon making the announcement, Dr. Bell, director of the Liverpool Cancer Research.

His report is said to cover fifty cases, treated by the injection of a poisonous solution of lead, all of which are declared to have been cured, although some were considered hopeless at the time treatment began.

As in the case of other announcements of a similar nature, it would be inadvisable to immediately form the conclusion that cancer has really been conquered, as allowance must be made for possibly incomplete or over-zealous reports. But it is encouraging to note that the problem is engaging the unremitting attention of some of the world's most eminent scientists, whose patient labors may be finally rewarded by complete success.

Should Dr. Bell's accomplishment be verified, he will be ranked as one of the greatest benefactors of humanity.

MY CALIFORNIA.

The following interesting and clever letter was received in Bay St. Louis a few days ago from one who once resided here, but now lives in the far-off California State. It is quite clever and worthy of perusal:

When I say "My California," I do not mean that I own California; that is all of it. I own some of it, but I did not think when I bought it that I was going to own it forever. The fellow that sold it to me said that I could sell it some time at a profit. But he was a poor prophet.

But I love California as only a "Native Son" (of Mississippi) can love it. I love its soil. Those lots that I own are in Los Angeles. I have an attachment for those lots that I shall never lose. That is, it looks now as if I never should. I just noticed yesterday that the deeds read, "To have and to hold."

But the dream of my life is some time to settle down in my own little bungalow, on my own little ranch, and there, with my own little home-brewery, to dream the happy hours away, seeing visions of other days and other places, and where can you find more to recall such visions than on a California ranch?

You arise in the morning to the music of a Connecticut-made alarm clock. You put on your Munising underwear, made in Minneapolis; hit your Boston garters to your Paris socks, button your Baltimore suspenders on to your Duluth overalls; put on your Lynn, Massachusetts, shoes, your Connecticut hat and you are up for the day.

You sit down to your table, made in Grand Rapids; eat your Hawaiian pineapple, your Quaker oats, and your Aunt Jemima flap-jacks swimming in New Orleans molasses.

Then you go out and put on the word "mister." Student—I thought I had her, but I missed her (Mr.). Bro. (trying his hat on Abe)—You

WEEKLY ECHOES FROM ST. STANISLAUS.

Improvements and

Bogalusa Scouts Win Over Stanislaus. The Bogalusa Scouts can still claim not having their goal line crossed. Saturday afternoon they defeated the Stanislaus juniors by the score of 13 to 6.

It was a nip-and-tuck affair, neither team making the advantage. The first score was made when Vauion rushed on Stanislaus' 8-yard line from Hoppin's 30-yard punt. Weuscher carried the ball over from the 100-yard line, after three fruitless attempts, and afterwards drop-kicked for the extra point.

From that point it was a punting duel between Vauion and Hoppin, Vauion having the upper hand, although Hoppin punted well for the visitors. Weuscher made some fine end runs and line bucks during the game. While for Stanislaus Chopin covered lots of ground. Two minutes before the end of the game the Bogalusa boys opened an aerial attack, which the home boys could not stop. On the last play of the game Hoppin passed the ball to Johnson, who fell over the line for the final score of the game.

Weuscher and Hoppin were the individual stars for Bogalusa. Chopin played a stellar game for Stanislaus, while the tackling of Andrade turned many a Bogalusa run into a loss.

Team Leaves For Jefferson Game.

Saturday evening clothes were brought down and grips were packed. The team was getting ready to leave for Convent, La., where they play their old rival, Jefferson, on Sunday, the Home-Coming day of that college.

Jefferson Beats Bay Team, 7 to 0

Jefferson College's well-drilled football team celebrated "Home-Coming Day" Sunday by defeating St. Stanislaus College, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., by a score of 7 to 0 in a close and hard fought contest. Coach Shaughnessy's eleven played fine football from start to finish, but did not have such an easy time with the visitors, as the ball was most of the time in Jefferson territory.

The lone score of the game came in the first quarter when Halfback Tripin went around left end for a 25-yard run and a touchdown. Quarterback McFadden added a point when he drop-kicked goal.

The playing of Sardagna, Triplin, Roussel, Caire and Roussel for Jefferson was a feature of the game.

The punting of Schwartz, Stanislaus and was the best ever seen on the local gridiron. One of his boots went for more than fifty yards. Captain Bonura and Cassidy also played stellar ball.

Judge Sam LeBlanc, of Napoleonville, La. delivered the welcome speech and also presented Captain Bonura, of St. Stanislaus, with a bouquet of flowers and Captain Caire of Jefferson with a silver trophy.

A crowd of about two thousand attended the game.

Education Week Observed By S. S. C.

Education week was celebrated at St. Stanislaus College by an entertainment given Friday, November 20th, by the Music Department, assisted by Class '26. Quite a gathering was there. Papers were read by class members. Bro. Oliver directed the music program, which was especially pleasing. The Glee Club also assisted, accompanied by Miss Levia Engman. All seemed to have been enjoyed and we hope that the entertainments in the future will be as successful.

The Smokers' Club.

Sunday night a new secret organization began in the College. There were nine members of the graduating class which composed the club. They adopted the name of the Smoking Nine. Ambiguous speeches were made by everyone. You will hear more of them in the future. The members are: Ike, Abe, Sopey, Sleepy, Dopey, Bugology, Smokey Joe, Bobo, and the Midget. The main attraction of the meeting was an old black hat bought in 1908.

And the world went round and round when:

Blank took a bath. Naylor dressed up Sat. nite. Ambrose came in late Mon. evening. Pete saw a certain pair of "Blue eyes."

Warner bought a pack of cigarettes. Flanagan ditto'd the order.

Letter Sweaters Given Out.

Friday morning the whistle blew and the student body gathered into the big study hall, Bro. Macarius entered with a number of boxes in his arms. A short speech was given and the letter sweaters were presented to the following boys: Henry Bonura (Capt.), Matt Monte, James Zaunbrecker, George Leger, David Kaffier, Edward Cassidy, Ewell Briggance, Francis Touss, G. Y. Blaize, Marchmont Schwartz, Harry Koch, Jr., Clarence Curet, Stanley Leach, William Gordon, Hewitt Brandt, James LaNasa, and, last but not least, the world's famous Mr. Ambrose Vincent Burns.

Each member was more than pleased with the sweater of this year.

At 12:30 Thursday the student body left the yard for the station, where they boarded a special, train. Stanislaus football team, Harry Koch, Jr., Clarence Curet, Stanley Leach, William Gordon, Hewitt Brandt, James LaNasa, and, last but not least, the world's famous Mr. Ambrose Vincent Burns.

When the train pulled out at 1 o'clock it was quite crowded with football fans and bay rosters. The jazz band played on the way over and the crowd seemed very jolly in spite of the threatening weather. In about one hour we found ourselves on the ground of G. C. M. A. While awaiting the whistle that would start the game the crowd was entertained by the hands of both schools. A slow never let up until we had boarded the train for the Bay.

The game started and after four quarters of much excitement and terrific line plunging the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws triumphed over the Gulf Coast Military Academy team by a score of nineteen to nothing.

The game was played on a wet and muddy field, causing fumbles frequently. Glover, Bonura and Blaize scored the touchdowns for the winners, the first named two catching forward passes and running across the goal, while the latter scored on a line buck.

Dent and Harris were outstanding stars for the cadets. Keiffer, Blaize, Brignac and Gordon were the stellar players for Stanislaus.

WINE PERMITS WITHDRAWN.

More Than 200,000 Permits Allowing

Manufacture of 200 Gallons Wine Wiped Out.

Washington, Nov. 24.—All prohibition permits allowing householders to manufacture annually 200 gallons of wine were ordered withdrawn today.

The action, which was forecast earlier in the week, sweeps aside one of the few remaining practices of pre-prohibition days. There are more than 200,000 of the permits outstanding.

Under the practice, any family could obtain license for the manufacture of the fruit juices other than cider without payment of tax and without giving bond.

The treasury holds now that the permit granted authority in violation of the Volstead act.

A Soft Word.

Jones, entering the street car, stepped on a young lady's toe. "Clumsy wretch!" she exclaimed, with an annihilating look.

"I beg your pardon," said Jones, "if you had feet big enough to be seen they wouldn't be stepped on."

Then the young lady smiled benignly and moved along for him to sit down.

LOCAL ATHLETICS.

THE S. S. C. JEFFERSON JOURNEY.

Rock-a-Chaws' Trip to Convent, La. Bus Trip That "Busted" Twice. Truck and Friendly Cars to Rescue—Pinky's Casualty in Battle of Gravel.

Place: Canal street, opposite restaurant.

Time: Exactly 8:47, grid time.

Modus Operandi: "Teche" Bus.

Personnel: Bro. Edmund and Corporal's Guard, Rock-a-Chaws, Coach Commagere and ye scribe. Total, 28.

Objective: Jefferson Highway to Jefferson College.

The stentorian tones of the admiral in charge of the blue Teche bus rose the dignified air of Canal street with an "ALL ABOARD!" Loaded to the guards, and then some, with all the paraphernalia, regalia and et cetera necessary for the occasion, the sturdy representatives of old Stanislaus were on their way to the camp of the enemy, situated some sixty-two miles away.

The "Joys" were riding, good-natured, healthy and happy.

Soon the good ship Teche turned into the Jefferson Highway, the big city was left behind; from Bungalows the scene shifted to Turnips and Cabbage, later to Sugar cane and Oil Tanks.

(Some combination, what?) On we went to the tune of the bus' roar, passed by and passing numerous cars, all seeming to take advantage of the delightful weather.

Everything was going on serenely, everyone snug and contented (even Milton LaPorte, who stood).

The first stop took place at Sellers, La., where the old ship refueled.

Oil Tank Fire.

Just as we stopped, great clouds of dense black smoke ascended from one of the numerous tanks of the New Orleans Oil Refining Company, a loud steam siren began to shriek, people ran hither and thither in excitement. The erstwhile quiet Sabbath of the country village was turned into a panic of haste and commotion. But we could not tarry there, and continued onward until just two miles south of LaPlace, when a crack like unto a rifle shot sounded—the Admiral puckered his brows, stopped and we discovered a "blow-out" in the stern quarter of the port side. That was remedied hastily by a spare tire, and we tuned in again with the speed station.

"Pinky" a Casualty.

While the change was being effected a number of the boys got up a battle of pebbles, which was broken up only when Cassidy was seen to clutch his head with both hands. Pinky's head had stopped one of the missiles of war, and Pinky was none the wiser. House Surgeon Commagere, with the useless assistance of ye scribe, gave the hero a quick roadside bob and applied the iodine (that never hurts)—with the customary Rock-a-Chaw grit, Pinky forgot all about it ipso facto.

Bus No. 2.

Just when we were congratulating ourselves that there was but a matter of a dozen miles more to cover, our ears were assailed by another explosion. Same wheel gone wrong again, and to put on the final coat of distress, no other time in sight. The old boat was just at the Granery pumping plant. Runners were sent out to get assistance, to phone Convent, & etc. As it was once the home grounds of ye scribe, a happy thought struck him and he at once got to making inquiries of an old colored retainer. Old Jack informed us that Mister Ford Boutte was de 'sistant chief...and, in answer to our prayer, Mister Ford came along, and after renewing the old, this good friend got the consent of the big Boss to allow us the use of the company's truck. In the meantime succor arrived from the "seat of action" and by the time the truck arrived there were only half a dozen left. The truck served a good purpose for a few miles when George Cleveland '24 bowled along and transferred the bunch to his Big Six.

All this trouble didn't mar the weather one bit. It kept on being good. We were unanimous in believing that our bad luck was over for the day—but, the Gloom seemed to have routed the Joys, and Lady Luck had found a new love, for when the game got started the team got some more.

When the Rock-a-Chaws would get near the enemy's goal line, the cry would come from the head linesman: "Stanislaus off-sides!" and the consequent penalty would not only throw the gang back, but tend to reduce their morale as well. The gent was named Pullen, and we heard somebody remark: "Pullen by name and Pullen by nature; can't you people see that guy's pullin' for his Alma Mater?" Sure enough the gent in question was hailing from Jefferson. Well, a head linesman who's agin ye is a tough proposition, to say the least, of course we wouldn't say, or even think, the gentleman did anything on PURPOSE. But it looked bad, didn't it, Bill?

No Use—7 Toe Much.

McFadden, for Jefferson, kicked off beyond the Rocks' goal line and the ball was brought back to the 20-yard line for play. Old Man "Tough Luck" started right there. The Rocks fumbled the oval and it went into the possession of Jefferson; Sardagna tried an end run and was thrown for a loss, then Pullen yelled "On sides" and Stanislaus went back five yards. Thiplin went off tackle for first down, tried it again and Cassidy floored him. Thiplin bucked center for one yard. Rousseau lost out on a pass and the ball went to Stanislaus. Zeke went through center for two yards, failed at another attempt and Schwartz punted to the 48-yard line.

Thiplin went round right and for three yards, Rousseau failed through center and on second try made three yards; then Caire, punted, out of bounds at the Rocks' 30-yard line, where the red and black found the going tough and a bad punt with a good carry-back put Jeff menacing again, an end run netted eight yards, but the ball went back once more, all a pun from Jeff to the Rocks.

30-yard missed by Zeke and a kick fell on it. That was the beginning of that grid, for an end run by Thiplin netted 25 yards and another by the same sprinter scored a touchdown. McFadden kicking the extra point.

Jefferson made no more scores during the remainder of the game, but came blessed close when they were on the 20-yard Rock line and attempted a forward pass. Blaize caught it and was downed one foot from the goal line, very narrowly missing a safety for Jefferson. Schwartz's great toe got the oval away from the danger zone Schwartz did some great booting during the game, one of his punts going for 50 yards.

Shortly after the start of the second period, the Rock-a-Chaws looked sure of a touchdown. Jeff punted to the Rock 20-yard line, LaNasa gained two yards round end; Schwartz went over guard for first down; Zeke off tackle for 5 yards. A short pass to Zeke netted 9 more, then a long beautiful pass to Glover gained about 40 yards. The Rock-a-Chaws had advanced 77 yards and a touchdown was imminent; Bonura skirted end and had a gain of at least 20, when the guy acting as referee showed his stuff in calling the play on because he contended that play was not ready. (This after BOTH sides had signified their readiness.)

Umpire Stewart asked Capt. Bonura during the game: "Where did they get that referee? He's a Rel of a Referee, I'll say."

It was patent that either the official in question did not know his business or that he flagrantly violated rules in favor of the team he desired to win. That, combined with the "Pullin'" on the line, would have been sufficient to defeat any team.

The sample given above is true of the whole cloth.

However, let us not detract from the prowess of Coach Rodney Shaunnessy's team. They are well coached and an excellent team, with three outstanding stars in Thiplin, Sardagna and Caire.

The punting of Schwartz was easily the feature of the game, with Bonura and Cassidy strongly in the spot light.

Captains Bonura and Caire were presented bouquets before the game and Captain Caire given a loving cup by his college.

A crowd of two thousand, including several old-timers, attended the game.

Score by quarters:

St. Stanislaus 0 0 0 0—0

Summary: Touchdown, Thiplin; point after touchdown, McFadden. Substitution, Jefferson, Alexander for Neck; Stanislaus, LaNasa for Brandt; Zaunbrecher for Courret.

Officials: Arbougust (Illinois), referee; Stewart (Dartmouth), umpire; Pullen (Jefferson), head linesman.

Be it resolved, by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county be and is hereby respectfully requested to speed up the paving of the streets of the city. That the public is constantly complaining of the bad conditions of the streets broken up by the county and the delay in completing same.

Be it further resolved, that the Board of Supervisors be and is hereby respectfully requested to have additional equipment placed on the works, as the one concrete mixer is totally inadequate to do the work, and avoid the unnecessary inconvenience now being caused the traveling public.

So Weak Couldn't Stand

"My wife's health broke down and for years she was just a physical wreck," says Mr. Thomas Glyn, of Gibson, La. "We did everything we knew, yet she seemed to get worse and worse. She was so weak till she couldn't stand, and had to be carried like a baby. It looked like nothing would save her that had been done."

CARDUI

For Female Troubles

"I began looking around. I knew that Cardui was for women. I decided to try it for her as all else had failed. She couldn't eat, she couldn't sleep, and I was desperate. After taking a few doses of Cardui, we were so glad to note that she wanted something to eat, and with each day's dose of Cardui, she grew stronger and got up out of bed. She is now able to cook, and stronger than in a long time."

Cardui has been in successful use for nearly 60 years in the treatment of many common female troubles.

—Messrs. Leo W. Seal and Geo. R. Rea recently returned from a trip to Cherokee dam, near Montgomery, Ala., where the Mississippi Power Company is preparing for gigantic power operations. They were guests, with other gentlemen, of President Barney Eaton, of the M. P. Co., who made the trip on a special train. They say what they saw is of such magnitude as to be unable to be realized unless personally visited, and that it was this improvement with others that would in the immediate future mean cheaper power and current for this section.

—Gordon Huff, versatile Mississippi Gulf Coast correspondent for the New Orleans Times-Picayune, spent Wednesday afternoon in Bay St. Louis, conferring with the Bay St. Louis resident correspondent of the T-P. In future, by request, the out-of-the-city edition of that paper will be delivered in Bay St. Louis, rather than the city edition, as at present. The request was made by the resident correspondent. Press specials are sent from this city from time to time, but no local resident reads them for the reason the edition locally circulated is one of the five printed every night and morning and that one is foreign to local interests.
